

Year One Home Learning

27.01.23

This week we have been:

- * reading the story Man on The Moon by Simon Bartram.
- * learning the names of the seven continents of the world.
- * using fixing and joining skills to make a space belt to take on a 'Space Walk'.
- * creating our own number subtraction stories using - First, Then, Now, e.g. First there were 6 astronauts in the rocket. Then 2 astronauts got out of the rocket. Now there are 4 astronauts in the rocket.
- * counting in multiples of 10.
- * practising our phonics and recall of information to write our news and recall facts about Lunar New Year celebrations.

For home learning, you can...

- * practise naming the seven continents of the world.

- * use Google Earth <https://earth.google.com> to spot the continents from space.

- * listen to your child read every day.

- * take part in the Big Garden Birdwatch this weekend.

Phonics

In phonics we have - have been investigating alternative spelling patterns for /l/ for example: apple, metal, the alternative spelling pattern for /s/ for example: space, mice, and the alternative spelling pattern for /v/ for example: give, leave.

We have also been learning tricky words: 'school', 'call' and 'different'

Have a fabulous and restful weekend!
