What would be the next number in each of these patterns?

- In DT we have finished making our wolf masks and they are fantastic! We have evaluated our designs and thought about what we would do differently if we made them again.
- We have been celebrating Black History Month and have learnt about Sislin Fay Allen. She made history when she became the first Black, female police officer in 1968. She worked in Croydon.

What other 'history-makers' do you know who have lived in our local area? Create a poster that shows their achievements.

- We have begun our topic by thinking about what history is. We have talked about how being a child has changed over time.

Talk to your grown-ups about their childhoods. How are their experiences are similar and different to yours? Did anything surprise you?
